

Jesse Liebman

President

Jesse Liebman grew up in and around New York City. His undergraduate degree is from Georgetown University, majoring in International Affairs. He continued on to graduate school at Columbia University earning an MBA in Finance and International Business.

Liebman's work life includes a total of 32 years at 2 airlines (TWA and Continental) and 2 companies (United Technologies and Worldspan) for whom airlines and other travel companies are principal customers. In each instance, he served as a corporate officer in either finance or planning functions.

Subsequently, Liebman both consulted for corporate clients in the travel space seeking guidance on distribution matters and taught undergraduate microeconomics at a public university for an additional 15 years.